Moon Man

There's a Man in the Moon and he's singing our tune,
for he thinks that it's Christmas* Day.
As we follow along, he keeps singing our song,
from a World so far away.

There are chords floating round in a jolly state,
and some notes make him blue in the face,
but, best of all, there's a tune that he knows,
and we sing it on Christmas* Day.

[Chorus:]

Let's dream of the Moon, made of dark green cheese,
all under a foot of snow.
Let's send candles and cards to the Man in the Moon,
and some holly and mistletoe.

It's Winter time again here on Earth,
and frost is on the ground.
A dear old man sings to us from far away
in a World so white and round.

*"New Years Day" may be substituted for "Christmas Day" as alternate text.

Original lyrics by Tom Clarke adapted by Greg Bartholomew (with permission).

For unaccompanied mixed choir (SATB)
with piano reduction for rehearsal only

Duration: 3½ minutes

Premiered December 8, 2012, by the Cascadian Chorale.
